SNORKELING, YES OR NO?

I write about snorkeling that is a sport that you can practice under the sea and I write about my opinion on the effect it has over the coral reef's environment.

I think that snorkeling is a good way to find out how fish and other water animals live together. The people that practice this, don’t must not break the environment under the sea, because in the sea live a lot of fishes and plants that need this environment for surviving.

Snorkeling can be good because if the people that practice this sport don’t hurt to the ocean environment.
